

BCEDA Partners with Awardify to Modernize the BC Economic Development Awards

The British Columbia Economic Development Association (BCEDA) is excited to announce a new partnership with Awardify, a leading online awards management platform, to modernize and streamline the BC Economic Development Awards process.

This collaboration will enhance the awards experience for applicants, judges, and organizers alike by introducing a user-friendly digital platform for submissions, evaluations, and results. Through Awardify, BCEDA will simplify entry processes, improve accessibility, and ensure greater transparency and consistency in judging.

The BC Economic Development Awards recognize outstanding innovation, leadership, and impact in communities across the province. With Awardify's modern tools, BCEDA can now provide a more efficient and engaging way to celebrate excellence in local and Indigenous economic development initiatives.

Key benefits of the new system include:

- Simplified online submission and tracking for applicants
- Streamlined review process for judges
- Enhanced communication and feedback features
- A more accessible and transparent awards experience

This partnership represents another step forward in ensuring BCEDA continues to deliver high-quality, modern services for our members. The BC Economic Development Awards have long celebrated the hard work and creativity of our communities, and Awardify will help us elevate that recognition to a new level.

The updated awards platform will launch near the end of December, with the call for entries beginning right after. Nominations will close on April 3, 2026.
